Course outline	This course is focused on social and cultural life of modern Britain. By presentation of the various topics for reading and analysis on history, political life and culture, the course enables the students to understand contemporary British society, way of life of the British and their mentality.
Course objectives	The course has a double aim. On the one hand it was designed to introduce students certain important aspects of British civilization, that is, basic cultural phenomena including the political, educational and welfare systems of Great Britain, its rich linguistic, ethnic and religious variety, its media institutions and links to the international community. On the other hand the course aims to improve the students’ language skills. Prior to the seminars concise chapters of James O’Driscoll’s textbook entitled Britain are to be read to secure that class discussions will be as productive as possible. The discussions involve exercises on the vocabulary and comprehension questions concerning the assigned reading among which you will find various forms of prose texts, poetry, newspaper articles, iconic British feature films, video reports, documentaries, cartoons and charts.
Learning outcomes	Upon the successful completion of this course, the students will acquire a broad knowledge of key historical developments in Britain and have a clear understanding of the sociological phenomena that have shaped contemporary Britain and the identity of its peoples. They will also: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Gain a fresh perspective on contemporary Britain.</li> <li>• Understand the attitudes and beliefs that shape Britain’s character.</li> <li>• Discover the history and cultural background to British society and institutions such as the NHS and the BBC.</li> <li>• Find out about people’s daily lives from charts, graphs, and extracts from popular fiction and newspapers.</li> <li>• Use the questions at the end of each chapter to consider what they have read and to make comparisons with their own culture.</li> <li>• Improve their English by using specific vocabulary and reading variety of texts</li> <li>• understand the academic vocabulary associated with the course</li> <li>• explain and ‘feel’ the UK and the Republic of Ireland with the eyes of each nation forming them.</li> </ul>
